Location: Relocating to Argentina, Greater Buenos Aires (currently in Tbilisi, Georgia)

As an experienced Engineering Manager, I lead teams to deliver clear insights on product developments and features. With strong communication and technical expertise, I become the go-to expert for product status and feature guidance within a year. I excel at aligning business goals with engineers' personal goals, fostering a collaborative, efficient, and happy work environment, using mixed styles of leadership. Seeking a long-term partnership with a company that values transparency and a people-centric approach.
